What is Claimed

1. An imaging device, comprising:

occupy said posterior focal area, an optical system having a posterior focal area; and an irregularly shaped photosensor configured to conform to and substantially wherein said photosensor includes a defect.